TRAVELER TIPS

- Onebag.com is a helpful site about travel and packing.
- Remember that less is more. There is a 50# weight limit for your checked bag, and if your carry-on will not fit under the seat there is a chance it will end up checked. You may want to buy something to bring home and will need some space.
- Take a roll-on carry-on and put in it everything you cannot live without, including valuables (passport, meds, computer, jewelry, sunglasses, some makeup, toothbrush/paste, etc)
- Dual voltage appliances do not require converters, just adapters (most phones and cameras today are dual voltage but be certain to check).
- Take copies of itineraries, passports, id, etc. in a separate bag than your originals and leave a copy with someone at home who can be called upon if those copies are needed.
- Medications should be in their marked bottles.
- Some people bring a shirt for every day but re-wear pants/skirts
- Outside of a hotel or guest house, closed toed shoes are highly recommended.
- Take zip-lock type baggies of various sizes for different needs during your trip.

GOJO, Ethiopia

- Gojo Town is about 10,000 feet in altitude and very dry. Evenings and mornings can be cool. You may want to dress in layers and/or have a light jacket. Some people find it very cold in the middle of the night; others are comfortable. If you run cooler, you may need heavier nightwear.
- Conservative, modest dress is appropriate. In the larger cities, woman can wear pants but in villages they should wear mid-calf to ankle length skirts.
- Ground is extremely uneven everywhere and sometimes we are out after dark in the villages and church plants. Be sure to wear appropriate footwear.
- It is very dusty. We recommend packing your 'going home' clothes in a zip-lock bag to keep them clean and fresh. You may want to pack in a series of plastic bags if you are concerned about dust penetrating your suitcase.
- Water is at a premium and you may have periods without hot water. Wet Ones or something similar are a good alternative for freshening up or for a sponge bath or as toilet paper. We recommend the anti-bacterial type for most applications.
- Clean sheets and towels are provided at the guesthouse in Gojo Town, Ethiopia.
